The award-winning Children's Water Education Festival is the largest event of its kind in the United States and will take place April 14 and 15, 2027 at Oak Canyon Park in Silverado. Approximately 6,000 third, fourth and fifth grade students and their teachers are expected to attend the event, presented by the Orange County Water District (OCWD).

The Festival presents a unique opportunity to educate students about water, the environment, and other science related topics. Since inception, more than 163,000 children from schools throughout Orange County have been able to experience the Festival and all it has to offer.

The Festival is provided at no cost to schools, making public and private financial support crucial to the success in educating our youth. As a sponsor, you will receive prominent recognition for your contribution.

We have designed many sponsorship levels and opportunities for the community to participate. Customized sponsorship opportunities are also available, including transportation assistance for schools in your service area. We also welcome in-kind donations.

"As a longtime sponsor and presenter at the Children's Water Education Festival, the Orange County Stormwater Program (H2OC) has had the privilege of educating thousands of students about protecting water quality and preventing pollution in our community. H2OC is a collaborative effort between the county and each of Orange County's 34 cities, working to reduce stormwater pollution and comply with federal and state water quality regulations. For over a decade, H2OC's involvement in the Festival has allowed students to actively engage in learning how they can help preserve our water resources through hands-on activities, interactive displays, and educational presentations. We are proud to continue sponsoring this event and remain committed to fostering environmental stewardship among Orange County's youth."

Sabah Awan, Environmental Resources Specialist/ Public Education Program Administrator, Orange County Storwater Program (H2OC)
